

Today, New Zealand is a leader in sustainable fishing practices and boasts a healthy economy, but that wasn't always the case. Join host Johan Norberg as he explores the story of how the island nation's flat lining economy revived after reforms that allowed industries to compete in the world market, in Trailblazers: The New Zealand Story.